Wax works for fundraiser Ian

A LABOUR councillor braved the pain barrier to raise £700 for charity.

Ian Beckett had his legs waxed to raise funds for Sam's Mission, which was set up by town resident Sam Snelling to raise funds for the neo-natal unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The life of Mr Snelling's son Ralph, who suffered complications during birth, was saved when he was cared for on the unit.

Mr Snelling has so far raised £8,500 towards his £10,000 target. Cllr Beckett, 50, has been supporting him and on Saturday he allowed beauticians Stephanie Smith and Gemma Webb, pictured, to wax his legs at the Park Inn Hotel where they both work.

"After having my head shaved last year and raising £1,000, a little more hair loss is the least I can do," he said. "I was told to expect pain but witnesses will confirm that I grinned and bared it."

"Sam's Mission is inspired by the simple, selfless act of saying thank you and with a few more pledges to collect I should hopefully have raised £700."

Fix these hell holes

- £2.9m paid in injury compensation
- MP calls for more money for repairs

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon is calling on the Government to set aside more money for pothole repairs after the Star highlighted the scale of the problem on the town's crumbling roads and pavements.

Mr Halfon raised the issue in Parliament after the Star reported that the number of potholes on 125 miles of roads in Harlow increased to 632 in the first quarter of this year.

It comes in the same week that a Freedom of Information request by Labour county councillors revealed that almost £3m has been paid in pothole injury compensation in the period from January 2009 to March 2014.

The number of claims made against Essex County Council for alleged injuries sustained by tripping over or falling into potholes in public areas topped £2,985,000.

Figures show that since 2009 more than 100 claims have totalled in excess of £10,000 each. Some payments made to members of the public involving footpath injuries exceeded £30,000, with injury claims aside from footways involving kerbs or carriageways.

Speaking in Parliament last week, Mr Halfon welcomed the additional £200m provided by the Chancellor to repair potholes but asked for additional help to tackle the damage that has been made worse as a result of the weather over recent months.

He has now launched a campaign to tackle Harlow's potholes by creating a database of hazards in the town and lobbying Essex County Council to repair each one.

He is also encouraging residents to write to him about any potholes in their area so he can take up their

Pair rescued from flat by firefighters

TWO people were rescued after fire broke out in the kitchen of a flat in Harlow in the early hours of Sunday.

Firefighters were called to the building in Rectory Wood shortly before 1am. Two occupants were taken to hospital after being found in a state of unconsciousness.

It is believed the fire started on a cooker hob.

A spokesman for Essex County Fire and Rescue Service said: "Our firefighters attend hundreds of fires a year which originate in the kitchen."

"Cooking is one of the major causes of fires in the home and even the smallest kitchen fire can cause devastation to your home and leave loved ones injured or even killed."

MP to tackle pothole issue case with the council.

Addressing MPs in the House of Commons, Mr Halfon asked Leader of the House Andrew Lansley MP if the Government would make more funds available for repairs.

Mr Halfon said: "May we have a statement regarding any extra support being provided to local authorities to tackle potholes on our roads and to make the lives of Harlow motorists easier?" he said.

Mr Lansley replied he was "not surprised" at the number of potholes reported but added that the winter weather conditions had had a "substantial impact on the quality of our roads".

CLlr Julie Young, leader of the Labour group at County Hall, said potholes were the "biggest area of concern" for residents.

Eight out of 10 parents get first choice primary school

MORE than 93 per cent of parents have been offered their first or second choice of primary school for the next academic year, according to county education chiefs.

Figures released by Essex County Council yesterday (Wednesday) show a total of 86.72 per cent were offered their first choice school, with 6.83 per cent their second and 2.45 per cent their third.

County councillor Ray Gooding, cabinet member with responsibility for education and lifelong learning, said: "I am fully aware that many parents will have been waiting nervously ahead of primary offer day and I am sure many will be delighted with the outcome and will now look forward to September."

"The fact is that despite pressures on primary school places, we have maintained high numbers of parents being offered their first preference school and this highlights the council's work to create the necessary places."

"To respond to the challenge of population increases we have commissioned almost 600 more reception places for September 2014 and are committed to delivering another 300 primary places by September 2015."

He added: "It is also important, at this time, to recognise the hard work and dedication of our primary schools in improving standards. The number of primary schools judged good or outstanding in the county has increased from 62 per cent in 2012 to 70 per cent in 2013."

Art gallery to close after losing its lease

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

A TOWN centre art gallery is looking for a new home after being told it must vacate its premises in West Gate.

Gatehouse Arts has been based in the shop unit for around three years but it will close on Easter Monday after being given just three weeks notice.

The space was first given to the group to help rejuvenate the area.

The Harvey Centre, which holds the lease on the property, is now working with the Association for Cultural Advancement through Visual Art to find Gatehouse Arts a new home.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We are talking to ACAVA and working hard to find Gatehouse Arts another location. This is not a malicious move, we are not closing down the gallery and we will endeavour to find them a new space."

"It is just about moving the gallery to another space and we are doing all we can to help with that."

The gallery is being evicted to make way for a shop which is currently in Little Walk. The shop will take on the premises on a permanent lease.

"Somebody has made an offer to take a permanent lease," said Mr Young. "The gallery has a temporary one and we would rather have a permanent lease."

ON THE MOVE: Gatehouse Arts member Amanda Westbury at the gallery in West Gate, which will close on Monday

Gatehouse Arts also has smaller premises in nearby East Gate as well as a range of studios above the West Gate gallery.

One artist, who asked not to be named, said: "It is sad. I think shopping centres need these sorts of spaces where people can come in and see something different and maybe even learn something new."

"It is about spaces where you can see something different and have conversations about crafts and arts. We have built up a community here."

"It's a reminder that residents need to support groups and galleries like this one as it is an important space."

The gallery is currently running The Art of Craft exhibition, which features a range of works from artists across the UK.

Tories are jumping on the bandwagon of our campaign

SIR Harlow Conservatives have put out their own version of The Sun, complete with red top, as part of their local election campaign. It resembles its sister publication in bias and inaccuracy.

On page 2 there is a picture of Old Harlow councillors and one prospective councillor standing by the Gilden Way sign in their blue rosettes looking very concerned. As far as I am aware this is their sole contribution to the very vigorous campaign against the proposed M11 junction 7a.

This campaign has been led throughout by Harlow Civic Society. We held the meeting at St John's ARC in February which was attended by nearly 200 people and resulted in a resolution carried with no opposing votes calling for the scrapping of the plan in favour of a northern alternative.

We handed in a petition at County Hall signed by 1,400 people. Councillor Mike Danvers, who is not a Tory, discovered that the consultation document was flawed, causing the county council to redraw it in even worse terms. We are currently waiting for their reply on that issue.

Harlow Council has carried a resolution opposing the Gilden Way alternative.

Some weeks ago MP Robert Halfon put out a very glossy postcard asking for people's responses to the plan. The text stresses that the only serious contender for the new junction is Gilden Way.

I assume that there has been some dissent from Old Harlow councillors fearful of losing their seat in the May election.

However, in spite of their pitiful claim to lead the opposition to the Gilden Way alternative, I suspect that Mr Halfon will enthusiastically endorse it, if and when it comes to pass.

Barbara Burge
Harlow Civic Society

Yes, parking is a problem but car owners are not ignorant

SIR I am writing in response to the letter from Terry Oliver regarding parking in Harlow (Star, April 10) I do feel calling people ignorant was unacceptable.

I wonder if Mr Oliver has a nice driveway or garage to park his car or maybe does not own a vehicle.

I do appreciate that parking in Harlow is a major problem and at times I have had to walk in the road as the pavements were blocked. However, where does Mr Oliver suggest car drivers go?

We want to be able to park as near to our homes as possible, especially

"I took this fox on the side of the public path in Greenhills woods one afternoon," writes Tony Hodgkins, of Whitewaits, Harlow. "It was just standing there enjoying the sunshine. It wasn't bothered and I took quite a few photos on my phone. It only went back into the woods when a lady came walking her dog."

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

coming home from work late at night. If he could come up with some useful suggestions I am sure hundreds of drivers would be really appreciative.

And how would fine people resolve the actual issue of parking our cars? Where does he think they would go?

There are lots of wasted spaces that are an eyesore, areas for example that are overgrown with bushes and shrubs which, if kept trimmed, would look very nice. But the council does not attend to these areas as often as should so they look an absolute mess.

I feel Mr Oliver should apologise. Car owners are not ignorant, they just want to have a space to park. How's that being ignorant?

Ann Lilly
Hollyfield, Harlow

Please spare a thought for those of us who are disabled

SIR I have a lot of sympathy with Terry Oliver on car parking on pavements. However, there is another side to the problem, especially in the older parts of the town where car ownership now greatly exceeds that originally planned for.

I have lived in my present home since it was first built but I am now disabled. Quite frequently these days I cannot find space to park in the road within a distance that I can walk. Because of this I am forced to park on the pavement.

Other folk, for other reasons, do the same.

I agree with Terry that pavement parking should be stopped but not before investing in creating more off road parking near people's homes.

Ian Kennett,
Felmongers, Harlow

Only a matter of time before there is a serious accident

SIR It's time for drastic measures regarding parking in this town.

Not only do all and sundry help themselves to allocated parking spaces, they park up on the pavement with all four wheels completely blocking pedestrian access.

Mothers with pushchairs and the elderly have to walk in the road.

I notice that the green area at Pear Tree Mead and Trotters Road is again being used as an overflow car park. Perhaps these people will be happy when they have destroyed the design of the town entirely and clogged the whole place up with vehicles.

There will be a serious accident when people are obliged to walk in the road because they can't use the pavement as it is blocked by a car.

Victoria Clifton
Ayletsfield, Harlow

Pedestrians are a hazard on town's cycle path network

SIR With reference to the letter about cyclists riding bikes on pavements (Star, April 10) and as a cyclist myself, the reason I have to sometimes cycle on the pavement is to avoid the pedestrians spread out all over the cycle tracks.

The best ones are the dog walkers with leads stretched from one side to the other. Even ringing the bell sometimes promotes a dirty look.

Some of the cycle tracks are a real pleasure to walk down, especially on a summer day, but please spare a thought for the cyclist. After all, you're on their road.

Danny Franks
Church Langley, Harlow

MP must understand the consequences of his actions

SIR Our local MP is quoted as finding the issue of foodbanks and food theft complicated (Star, April 10). If it is complicated why did he vote down in Parliament a request to publish the official report on foodbanks?

In the same edition Mr Halfon complains, quite rightly, that his Tory friends at County Hall are in the process of cutting school crossing patrols. Why then did he vote in Parliament to see local authority grants slashed by one-third?

Does he think his actions in Parliament have no consequences?

This is the same MP who voted in Parliament to see VAT increased to a whopping 20 per cent, which amongst other things sent petrol prices to record levels. Yet he continues to claim he is a champion of the motorist.

Michael Danvers
Tunmeade, Harlow

Did you leave a pair of new trainers on Harlow train?

SIR I caught the Cambridge/Standed Express train from Liverpool Street at 8.30pm on Saturday, April 5. When I got on the carriage I found a JD Sports carrier bag and inside a brand new pair of trainers in their box with the receipt.

They are ladies' trainers and were bought in Harlow on the same day. I would guess they would have caught the train heading in to London that I got at Liverpool Street as no-one else had picked them up.

I contacted the lost property office at Liverpool Street and was told the lady had called asking if anyone had handed them in. Unfortunately she didn't leave her name or details.

I'd love to be able to get them back to her as they are not a cheap pair. If the owner wants to contact the Star I'll take it from there.

Happiness of the long distance runners

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW residents pounded the streets of the capital as they joined more than 30,000 runners taking part in Sunday's Virgin Money London Marathon.

Learning support assistant Ayshea Pite, 41, of Keefield, completed the course in a time of 4:26:43. Ayshea, who works at Jerounds Primary School, raised more than £1,500 for St Clare Hospice.

Veteran runner Stephen Hulcoop, 69, of Five Acres, finished his 25th London Marathon in 4:56:26. He raised £1,500 for homeless charity Housing Justice.

Mr Hulcoop, who is already preparing for next year's race, finished with a bout of skipping and a headstand - a tradition he has carried out after every marathon. "I actually sped up a little towards the end as I wanted to finish in under five hours," he said.

Friends Brian Whitnall, and Steve Daniel ran in aid of St Clare Hospice and raised £3,000. Brian, 40, of Woodcroft, Harlow, finished in a time of 5:32:04 and Steve, from Bishop's Stortford, in 5:17:06.

"I found it really tough with the heat," said Brian. "However the atmosphere was buzzing because it was so warm."

Visual merchandising stylist Danielle Arnold, 24, of Dovehouse Croft, completed her first marathon for Dementia UK in memory of her grandmother and raised £500. She completed the course in 6:56:58.

Maths teacher Andy Kitson, 39, of Chapel Fields, crossed the finishing line in 3:31:13 and raised £3,500 for St Clare Hospice.

Personal trainer Lauren Davis, 30, of Katherines, recorded a time of 4:52:07 and raised more than £2,000 for Arthritis Care.

Harlow College student Tom Jarvis was one the youngest runners to complete the marathon. The 18-year-old, who celebrated his birthday on Friday, finished in 4:23:09 and expects to raise more than £5,000 for the Catholic aid agency CAFOD.

Kate Stanley, who owns bootcamp Stanley4Fitness with husband Gary, completed the course in 5:36:45. Having set herself a target of £2,000, she has raised £3,924 for The Stroke Association, a charity she chose after her father suffered a stroke.

Emma Wadding, 37, a commercial recruitment manager, of Potters Field, finished in 4:11:10 and raised £650 for Diabetes UK in memory of her father, Raymond Benson who passed away suddenly last year.

Former Harlow Council councillor Paul Schroder finished in 4:23:29 and raised more than £1,600 for maritime charity Seafarers UK.

Health technician Glenn Roberts, 26, of Bush Fair, raised £1,005 for the neo-natal intensive care unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital which cared for his oldest son, who is now 4. Glenn completed the marathon in a time of 5:02:29.

Streets blackout is 'putting lives at risk'

ESSEX County Council's street light switch-off is risking lives, according to a leading roadside breakdown service.

The AA said night-time accidents in bad weather on 30mph urban roads have been slashed by 15.6 per cent over the past five years. But that figure falls to just two per cent where there are no lights or they have been turned off.

AA president Edmund King said: "Worse accident rates on roads with street lights turned off or not present is an insidious threat that has crept in literally under the cover of darkness. Many local authorities based their risk assessment on police accident profiles for the affected roads but this has two huge drawbacks.

"Firstly and fundamentally, roads that are safe when lit can become unsafe with the lights switched off, but that is only shown when drivers, cyclists, bikers and pedestrians start to get hurt and killed.

"Secondly, with an extra casualty here and there, it is difficult to spot a creeping overall trend that might suggest something is dangerously wrong with a blackout."

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Official statistics show that, on darkened 40 mph built-up roads, accidents in the wet, snow or ice are down 21.8 per cent where there is lighting, but only 5.2 per cent where there is not.

Overall from 2007 to 2012, a 19.6 per cent reduction in road accidents along town and city roads where street lights were on shrank to 8.8 per cent where drivers, cyclists, bikers and pedestrians travelled in darkness.

Labour councillor Mike Danvers, who sits on both Harlow Council and Essex County Council, said: "As expected, the turning off of street lights in Harlow is having an adverse effect on the accident level and people reporting trips and falls. The sooner this policy is reversed at County Hall the better.

"Conservative councillors really do need to listen to public opinion and not ignore it. I continue to have strongly expressed opinions about the turn off both by email and on the doorstep. People are acquiring torches and putting up their own lights outside their front doors.

"I have had the comment more than once 'why do we pay local taxes if we can't get proper services?'. I will continue to try to get this policy reversed at far away Chelmsford with a Tory administration that continues to ignore Harlow's needs."

A spokesman for Essex County Council said the part-night lighting scheme has been in place for Maldon and Uttlesford since 2007 and consultations took place before introduction.

He said: "We have ensured that those lights which meet the exception criteria are excluded from the scheme such as town centres, key road junctions and accident cluster sites.

"Essex County Council has been working closely with the emergency services and responds to representation from them regarding any areas which they believe should be exempt from the part-night lighting scheme."

More than 70 per cent of Essex's 127,000 street lights are now switched off from midnight to 5am.

Essex Police has previously said crime has fallen in that period since the blackout.

CELEBRATING: Eve-Marie Darby, centre, with staff and children at Pyjama Drama

Eve-Marie in running for top award

A HARLOW businesswoman has been nominated for a national children's award.

Eve-Marie Darby runs Pyjama Drama, a drama-based programme that runs alongside the national curriculum and encourages children to use their imagination. She has been nominated in the 'most outstanding activity leader' for the east of England region category.

The What's On 4 2014 Junior Awards, which are in their eighth year, recognises the best activities, classes, people and places throughout the country. Ms Darby has now reached the national voting stage.

She said: "This is a fantastic honour to get this far and I am very proud to be the only Harlow small business to have made the final for this national award. If I did win this would really help my little business to grow.

"It's all really exciting, I'm just grateful to have been nominated."

From now until May 15, parents, carers and other residents can go online and vote for their favourite nominee.

The winners will be announced at an award ceremony on June 20. Everyone who votes will also be in with a chance to win two VIP tickets to the awards ceremony to meet the finalists, sponsors and VIP guests.

To vote, visit www.whatson4littleones.co.uk.

Sign up now to stand out at exhibition

MORE than 80 stands have now been snapped up for this year's Harlow Business Exhibition.

The event takes place at Harlow Leisurezone on June 10.

One of the firms which has supported the exhibition since it was first held in 2010 is legal practice Attwaters Jameson Hill, based in West Gate.

"We are delighted to continue our support for the Harlow Business Exhibition which is now one of the most successful in the region," said a spokesman. "Not only does it demonstrate the strength of business in Harlow it has also become a useful place to meet other business leaders."

Businesses interested in booking a stand or finding out more about the exhibition should visit www.businessexhibition.co.uk or call (01279) 775953.

Thug forced ex-girlfriend to strip before assaulting her

Golfers chip in to support school charity

MORE than 130 golfers teed up for a charity match at the Manor of Groves in High Wych and raised about £1,000 for No Child Without.

The charity was set up by Passmore Academy PE teacher Dave Archer to provide financial support for young people across Harlow in order to help them access educational and extra-curricular opportunities that may be beyond their means.

It has been chosen as the club's charity of the year.

Club captain Brett Trevillion said: "The day was a big success with 134 golfers taking part. We're happy to support a great local cause."

A MAN who forced his former partner to strip to her underwear and stand outside on the balcony of her flat in Harlow while he burgled it has been spared jail.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that as well as forcing his ex to strip and stand outside in the cold, David Dewberry, 26, of Old Leake, Boston, also attacked her, smashed property in her flat and, when he allowed her back inside, forced her to cut up her own clothes.

Dewberry, who was tracked to a hotel in Harlow through a phone he had stolen from his ex, was told by Judge Anthony Goldstaub that he had come close to being sent to prison.

But instead the judge imposed a 12-month jail sentence suspended for two years and ordered Dewberry - who pleaded guilty to charges burglary, assault and causing criminal damage - to attend a building better relationship programme.

Karl Volz, prosecuting, told the court on Friday that Dewberry had broken up with the woman in July 2013 after a five-year relationship.

On December 21 last year he had been staying at her home as a guest.

Mr Volz continued: "The following day he let himself in having taken the key the previous day, forced her down on the settee, smashed the television and slapped her around. He forced her to strip to her underwear and go out onto the balcony on a cold day.

COURT REPORTER

"After she returned inside he forced her to cut up her own clothes, sat on her feet causing her pain and bruising and stole her phone and keys but the police tracked him down. He had booked himself into a hotel near Harlow station with a female."

Nicola May, representing Dewberry, said in mitigation: "He does regret the incident and now accepts the relationship is over. He's ashamed of his behaviour."

As he passed sentence the judge told Dewberry: "I'm not going to send you to prison immediately although I have to say you were not far off."

"You behaved in a disgraceful way coming up to Christmas last year when you fell out with your former partner and lost your temper, but I think it's a one-off."

Referring to the suspended sentence the judge told him: "You've got to have some threat hanging over your head so you don't start thinking of bizarre things again."

Celebrities join in memorial day for soccer boss Don

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

A CELEBRITY football match, live music and children's activities are being held in memory of former soccer boss Don Watters, who died in October at the age of 62.

Mr Watters, who lived at Fir Park, Harlow and worked for Pitney Bowes, was a popular figure in the local football world. He had been in football management for more than 30 years, taking charge of Sawbridgeworth Town, Stansted and Takeley during that time.

His son, Mark, has organised the memorial day - which will include a celebrity football match and several other games - with Paul Groves, chairman of Harlow District Football League.

It will take place at the Harlow Arena, home of Harlow Town FC, on Sunday.

As well as the games there will be performances by a number of local bands including The Albino Peaches, Simon Heath, A Fistful of Covers, Rob's Acoustic Emporium and Portland Avenue as well as singer/songwriter Ashley K.

"We will have bouncy castles, face painting, an Easter egg hunt and a load of stuff going on at the same time as all the games," said Mark. "It's a packed event."

"In the evening we have eight local bands who have donated their time to perform and entertain the crowds. We're really grateful to that."

"It's very humbling to have had so much support, with people sponsoring the event, taking part and helping out for free."

Proceeds from the event, which will finish at around midnight, will be ploughed back into grassroots football in Harlow.

"My father was absolutely crazy about football so this is how we wanted to celebrate his life rather than only mourning for him," said Mark. "It is something he would have loved."

"Obviously we have our feelings for him and we miss him, but it's great to be this well-received by businesses, individuals and the community. It's really nice to see so many people showing their respect by joining in and mum is really looking forward to the day."

"This is the only way to remember him - by playing football and getting everyone involved."

Gates open at 11am, with games starting at midday. Entry is £5 for adults and £1 for children. Family tickets (two adults and two children) are £10.

Bikers' egg run for sick children

A GROUP of motorcyclists will be delivering chocolate treats to Princess Alexandra Hospital's children's ward this weekend.

They will collect and deliver Easter eggs for youngsters on Dolphin Ward and are also raising funds for SANDS, a charity that supports bereaved families after stillbirths and neonatal death.

Motorcyclists will be meeting up at The Square on Sunday from 10am. Those taking part are asked to donate an Easter egg and a voluntary donation of £5 per motorcycle.

Members of the public who would like to donate an egg can do so and representatives of SANDS will also be present with collection boxes.

A SANDS fundraising evening will also be held at The Square on Sunday. Entry is £5 and doors open at 7pm.

Charity sleepout for the homeless

HARLOW charity Streets2Homes is preparing to hold its annual sleepout event to raise awareness of homelessness and collect money for the organisation.

The sleepout will take place in the grounds of St Mary-at-Latton Church next Friday (April 25) and everyone is welcome to take part.

Refreshments will be served from 9.30-10.30pm before sleepers find a spot to spend the night in the church garden. Breakfast will be served at 6.30am.

Streets2Homes spokeswoman Kerrie Eastman said: "It is all about raising awareness of homelessness and raising funds for Streets2Homes."

To sign up for the sleepout, call Kerrie on (01279) 430011 or email kerrie.eastman@streets2homes.com.

Couple's dance raises thousands

HARLOW couple Dave and Jean Roberts, of Commons Road, have raised more than £4,000 for St Clare Hospice by holding a big band charity dance earlier this month.

A bumper raffle, the proceeds from which are being matched by Barclays Bank in Old Harlow and Hoddesdon, gave a further boost to the total.

Next open day at cat rescue centre

CHESTNUT Cat Sanctuary at Thornwood Common will be holding an open day tomorrow (Friday) to find new owners for some of the cats and kittens currently in its care.

The rescue centre holds similar events throughout the year to rehome animals and raise awareness of its work.

The open day takes place from 11am-2pm.

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery draw on Friday, April 11 was ticket holder 589117 who lives in Epping.

Care home launches friends group

DISABILITY charity Livability has launched a friends group to support the residents of Netteswell Rectory.

The rectory in Manston Road, Harlow, is home to nine adults with learning disabilities who receive help to develop skills that will increase their independence.

The Friends of Netteswell Rectory Group will now start raising funds to purchase a new minibus for residents.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon was invited along for the launch of the group earlier this month, pictured above.

Group chairwoman Sandra Hart said: "We are delighted to start the new group to raise funds for the residents to purchase items or equipment that would not normally be funded."

"The launch was a resounding success and very well attended by members of the community, residents and staff of Netteswell Rectory, and given a boost by Mr Halfon pledging his support."

"From the launch we have raised just under £2,000. It's a fantastic start to our fundraising, and we thank everyone for their support."

10 things to do over the Easter weekend break

FROM chocolate workshops to egg hunts and arts and craft activities, families in Harlow will be spoilt for choice with things to do this bank holiday. Here are 10 suggestions for the Easter break:

Pets' Corner fun day

The Friends of Harlow Pets' Corner will be hosting a fun day at the Town Park attraction on Monday from 11am-4pm. As well as a chance to meet all the animals and new arrivals, there will be an egg hunt, children's games, face painting, a barbecue, and bouncy castles. Harlow MP Robert Halfon has volunteered to sit in the stocks while visitors pelt him with wet sponges.

Parndon Wood Nature Reserve egg hunt

Organisers have set up a series of challenges in the nature reserve off Parndon Wood Road on Sunday and those who complete all the tasks will take home a chocolate egg. The free Easter Egg hunt will take place on Sunday from 11am-3pm and booking is essential. Call (01279) 430005 to reserve a place.

Family fundraiser at Frankie and Benny's

The Water Garden's restaurant will be raising money for Leukaemia & Lymphoma Research by holding colouring competitions, a charity raffle and face-painting for the charity. Children will also be able to eat for free tomorrow (Good Friday).

Launch of Harvey Centre kids club

The Harlow town centre shopping mall will be launching its new kids club with a host of free workshops and activities. From 10am-3pm on Saturday children will be able to make treats such as cupcakes and brownies in a chocolate sensation workshop. There will also be an Easter-themed arts and crafts workshop, face painting and a treasure hunt led by the Easter Bunny.

Harlow Town Park fun fair

The fair opens today (Thursday) at 6pm and runs over the bank holiday weekend offering all the popular rides for adults and children. It opens at 2pm on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Easter Egg trail at Hatfield Forest

The National Trust has teamed up with Cadbury for an Eggsplorers Easter Egg Trail using an eggsploration kit consisting of a trail journal, map, passport and explorer hat to hunt out chocolate treats. Every trail will help support the National Trust's work. The trails will be taking place from Friday-Monday, from 11am-3.30pm. There is a £2 charge for each child taking part.

Egg hunt on Epping Ongar Railway

From Friday to Monday the Epping Ongar Railway will be hosting an Easter Egg hunt as well as lots of other activities for children and their families. The Easter Bunny will be making an appearance to guide youngsters in a hunt for eggs hidden at various locations around the railway. There will also be an owl display, face painting and a bouncy castle as well as unlimited travel on the heritage buses, steam and diesel trains. Family tickets (2 adults, 3 children) are £32 if bought in advance.

Gibberd Galley art workshop

Youngsters can unleash their inner artist at a dreams and fantasy workshop run by artist Ella McCartney at the gallery in Harlow Civic Centre on Saturday. The workshop, which costs £2 per child, will be a drop-in session from noon-2pm.

Gibberd Garden egg hunt

Adults can enjoy the beautiful surroundings of the gardens in Marsh Lane, Harlow, while children take part in an egg hunt and a host of other activities on Sunday from 2-6pm. The Barn Tearoom will be open as normal for afternoon tea and cake. Entry to the gardens is £4 for adults (£3 concessions) and £1 for children aged 6-16 (under 6s free).

Burnt Mill Snooker & Social Club fun day

A family fun day will be held at the club in Edinburgh Way, Harlow, from noon to 10.30pm on Sunday. Activities will include an egg hunt, face painting and a children's Easter bonnet competition. There will also be a children's entertainer and a barbecue. Admission is free but you must obtain an advanced ticket from the bar - this includes a free Easter egg for every child.

...and one for the road

Easter Bunny adventure at Cressing Temple Barns

The Easter Bunny and his friends will be meeting and talking with youngsters and their parents as they play games and follow clues to find a chocolate egg at Cressing Temple Barns near Braintree on Sunday. Children will also be able to meet Alice from Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and find a key to pass through the door to the Tudor walled garden where they will find the Mad Hatter at his tea party and the Queen of Hearts playing a game of flamingo croquet. Booking is recommended by calling 0845 6037624. Tickets cost £5.95 per child.

Walkers to carry cross through town centre

ORGANISERS of a Walk With The Cross procession through Harlow town centre tomorrow (Friday) will be holding a 'cans for compassion' collection for Harlow Foodbank.

Those taking part in the walk will meet at St Paul's Church for prayers at 9.30am before starting the procession at 10.15am. They will then assemble in the Harvey Centre at 11.15am.

More than 300 people joined last year's walk, pictured right, which is organised by church group Heart4Harlow.

Caring students presented with Diana AwardST MARK'S WEST ESSEX CATHOLIC

A group of students at the Tripton Road school has received The Diana Award, presented in memory of the Princess of Wales who believed that young people have the power to change the world for the better.

The group of 25 students from Years 8-13 have received the Champion Volunteers award in recognition of the time and effort they have contributed to the development of the spiritual nature of the school.

The students have organised and led worship opportunities, raised funds for charity and designed and established a spiritual garden as a place where pupils and staff can spend time to reflect.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon presented the students with their certificates during a special assembly to which their parents were invited. Headteacher Elaine Heaphy said: "The school is very proud of these young people and looks forward to finding out what they have planned for the coming year. "They have made a valuable contribution to our school community and are positive role models for their peers. Being recognised by the Diana Award is a fitting reward for their dedication over the past year."

Nursery tots have great time with TimmyKIDDI CARU NURSERY

Youngsters received a visit from Timmy the sheep, star of children's TV show Timmy Time, after the nursery won a competition run by Sport Relief at Kiddi Caru's 19 nurseries across the country.

The nursery in Kiln Lane, Harlow, was chosen after sending in photos taken when staff and children they 'woolly jumped' to raise money for the charity.

On Friday Timmy met the children and staff and was given a tour of the nursery including its new garden area.

Manager Jennie Gregory said: "Timmy Time is a firm favourite with all of the children here so to receive a visit from Timmy was an amazing treat for them. They were so excited and the visit itself lived up to their expectations. "We can't thank Sport Relief enough for choosing us as the winner. It was an experience the children will not forget for a long time."

Facelift enhances site of Hepworth masterpiece

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE location of one of Harlow's most famous public works of art has been given a major facelift.

The area in Glebelands where Dame Barbara Hepworth's sculpture Contrapuntal Forms is situated, has been landscaped as part of a project part-funded by Harlow Council.

Broken and dangerous cobbles have been removed, a section of paving damaged by vehicles has been relayed and a wooden fence installed around the whole area to protect it from vehicular access.

In addition, a pedestrian access rail and additional knee rail have been erected to provide further protection to the sculpture.

The work has been carried out by Kier Harlow.

A council spokesman said: "This is a fantastic transformation that makes a huge difference to this area and really helps to enhance and protect this famous sculpture which once again sits proudly."

"Harlow's sculptures are part of everyday life in Harlow and working with the Harlow Art Trust we are always looking to do what we can to ensure they continue to be part of the local community."

A representative of the arts trust added: "We are delighted with the sensitive restoration of the landscaped area surrounding Contrapuntal Forms, which is one of Dame Barbara Hepworth's most notable sculptures and one of the most outstanding art works in the town."

Originally commissioned by the Arts Council for the Festival of Britain in 1951, the sculpture in blue limestone was recently cleaned by an internationally renowned firm of conservation specialists.

The makeover was initiated by the arts trust which obtained match funding from the Hepworth Estate to pay for the work to be carried out.

The trust spokesman added: "The commitment of Harlow Council to improving and upgrading this part of Glebelands is a wonderful example of the public and charitable sectors working together."

"It is also proof of the seriousness with which the council takes the designation Sculpture Town."

How the spare room subsidy is applied . . . and who is exempt

IN April 2013 the Government introduced the spare room subsidy - or 'bedroom tax' - for tenants under pension age living in council and social housing.

The new rules mean that tenants who have a spare bedroom have a 14 per cent reduction in their eligible rent for housing benefit while those with two or more spare bedrooms have a 25 per cent reduction.

For example, a couple whose children have grown up and left home and who have two spare bedrooms will have their eligible rent for housing benefit reduced by 25 per cent. If their eligible rent is £100 per week, the maximum housing benefit payable is reduced by 25 per cent to £75 and they will need to make up the shortfall.

The size criteria restricts housing benefit to allow for one bedroom for each person or couple living as part of the household, with the following exceptions:

- Two children under 16 of same gender are expected to share
- Two children under 10 are expected to share regardless of gender
- A disabled tenant or partner who needs a non-resident overnight carer will be allowed an extra bedroom
- Approved foster carers will be allowed an additional room so long as they have fostered a child or become an approved foster carer in the past 12 months

- An exception is also made for adopted children
- A member of the Armed Forces will normally be treated as continuing to live at home when deployed on operations

● Disabled children who are unable to share a bedroom with a sibling because of their severe disabilities are allowed their own room

● Some students living away from home will be allowed a bedroom.

Children who don't normally live with you are not included in the calculation of the number of bedrooms. If you share the care of a child, the child is counted as living in the home of the person who gets Child Benefit for them.

Some properties are exempt from the bedroom tax altogether, including shared ownership properties and some supported and temporary accommodation.

Councils can make discretionary housing payments to people facing hardship.

The rules are complicated and this article does not cover all of them. Next month's article will look at some of the loopholes.

In the meantime, seek advice if necessary.

Harlow Advice Centre is based on the first floor of Harlow Central Library in The High. Telephone (01279) 704002 or email admin@harlowac.org.uk. Opening hours are Monday noon-2pm and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 10am-2pm. Out of hours appointments are available if necessary.

Family-run plumbing business with a reputation for high-quality service FAMILY-run plumbing and heating business CF Oakes has been established since 1958 and in that time has built up an enviable reputation for a quality, professional service.

Originally set up by Charlie Oakes, the business is now run by Steve Oakes and his wife Jackie, who took charge in 1979. Their eldest son Tom has been working with the company since 1996 and youngest son Sam joined in 2005.

The business is well known for its fabulous high-quality bathrooms and kitchens but can carry out all plumbing, heating (including underfloor heating) and building work. They pride themselves on offering a complete service from the initial design through to final installation.

Based in Harlow, CF Oakes has a showroom where you can see a variety of bathrooms on display to give your ideas and inspiration. There is something to suit all requirements and you can also see a selection of kitchens and bathrooms on the website at www.cfoakes.co.uk.

The company covers a wide area including Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth, Epping, Loughton, Hertford, Hoddesdon, Ware, Cheshunt, Chipping Ongar, Stansted and Brentwood.

As a long established, family-run company, people know CF Oakes is a name you can trust and much of their work comes from personal recommendation. You'll always receive a friendly, personal service at a competitive price.

CF Oakes is Gas Safe registered (Gas Safe register number 123) and all work is guaranteed.

Whether it's a new kitchen or bathroom you want or just want expert, friendly advice on any aspect of plumbing or heating, call CF Oakes on (01279) 421182 or 07836 736202. You'll also find the company on twitter @cfoakes.

CF Oakes is open from 9am -4pm Monday to Saturday. There is plenty of free parking available at the showroom.

NEWS

Year-on-year rise in thefts and car crime

CRIME in Harlow has fallen for the third consecutive year despite an increase in vehicle crimes and shoplifting.

Latest figures reveal the number of reported crimes for the 12-month period from April last year fell by 0.9 per cent. This compares to a nine per cent drop from April 2012 to March 2013.

The overall success rate for solving crimes in the Harlow district improved by 2.2 per cent - up from 32.80 per cent last year to 34.97 per cent.

While the number of crimes involving serious violence fell by 20 per cent

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

from 50 to 40, serious sexual crimes rose by almost a third from 65 to 86. However, many of those cases were historic and involved victims who had only just gained the confidence to contact police.

Superintendent Justin Smith said: "While we have seen an increase in the figures for serious sexual crime, many of these are historic reporting where victims have been able to come forward. These all result in an investigation but people in Harlow do not need to feel vulnerable walking the streets at night because of this statistic."

Police received 62 reports of crimes classified as racially-aggravated (down 4.6 per cent) while incidents of anti-social behaviour fell by 2.5 per cent from 3,969 to 3,870.

Domestic burglary has fallen since last year with 138 (26.7 per cent) fewer incidents, while the clear-up rate rose by 2.6 per cent.

The number of robberies fell by 40.1 per cent with 59 fewer reported incidents while the number of cases solved was up by 10.7 per cent.

However, reports of shoplifting and vehicle crime both shot up over the past year. Thefts from shops rose by 15 per cent to 1,037 while vehicle crime was up by 3.2 per cent to 672.

Superintendent Smith added: "There is no one thing that has led to these results but a combination of many."

"We have a strong working relationship with the council who have worked with our very energetic neighbourhood constables and PCSOs to deal with longer running local problems and these are complemented by a team of tenacious initial responders who have acted on some excellent phone calls from members of the public."

"With the very visible results of the recent drug supply arrests led by our experienced CID team we have seen that together we can achieve significant results."

A LAW firm with offices in Harlow is hoping to raise £10,000 for Macmillan Cancer Support - and has started by using a popular confectionary.

Staff at Attwaters Jameson Hill Solicitors, which has branches in Hertford, Ware and Loughton as well as Harlow, are filling empty Smarties tubes with £1 coins.

When filled, each tube contains £27 which is enough to fund a Macmillan nurse for one hour.

Staff will also be holding their annual charity quiz and taking part in a countryside walk with friends and family. There will also be various other fundraising initiatives including dress down days and coffee mornings.

"We chose to support Macmillan Cancer Support not only because of the great work they do but also because so many of us have come into contact with them and witnessed first-hand their dedication," said spokesman Stephen Goddard.

Moira Cromie, Macmillan's fundraising manager for Hertfordshire and Essex, says: "They are hugely enthusiastic about their fundraising and just hearing about their plans makes me think they will hit their amazing target."

"The money they raise will make a huge difference. We cannot thank them enough for choosing to support Macmillan."

Solar plane to fly world

A SOLAR plane built for an ambitious mission to fly around the world powered only by the Sun has been unveiled.

The Solar Impulse 2 aircraft has a huge wingspan of 72 metres - equal to that of a Boeing 747 plane. It weighs about the same as a large car.

Its wings are covered in 18,000 solar cells that convert sunlight into electricity to power its motor and to store in its batteries.

The global flight is set to take off next year.

The Swiss team behind the project has already flown a previous solar plane across America.

Trains are on track for punctuality

TRAINS operated by Abellio Greater Anglia achieved a punctuality rating of 92 per cent last month – beating the national average of 91.4 per cent, according to the latest Network Rail figures.

The route-by-route punctuality breakdown for March shows West Anglia – used by commuters from Harlow and Sawbridgeworth into London Liverpool Street – was 93.6 per cent while the Stansted Express to the airport achieved 92.1 per cent.

The current moving annual average performance figure was 91.7 per cent. This measures the average punctuality for the past 13 periods of train performance.

Jamie Burles, the operator's managing director, said: "It is encouraging that our train service performance improved in March compared to the previous four-week period."

Pop-up shop gives young people hope for the future

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A POP-up shop that aims to help challenge the negative perceptions surrounding the town's young people was held in Harlow.

Organiser of the Pop Up Talent Shop, Kellie Tighe said: "This project is to help young people. If they feel lost and have nothing to do our aim is to listen to them and hook them up with employers to give them work experience."

"We try to think differently by being interesting just like young people are. It is their projects."

The Pop Up Talent Shop opened its doors to unemployed young people aged 16-25 on Friday.

Ambassadors and employers were on hand to talk to the young people and give them the chance to try out some of the jobs available to them.

The Pop Up Talent shop is part of a scheme by the Foyer Federation to challenge negative perceptions and give young people guidance, information and support on how to build their future.

David Akinya, who attended the event in Little Walk, said: "I think the project is a brilliant idea, it's great that we get to get involved with employers. I've met the tattoo artist and the jewellery maker I have given them my email address and I look forward to hearing back from them."

Neil O'Dell, who works as a chef at Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow, said: "A lot of young people turn to gangs when they feel lonely and have no-one to turn to. I'm here today to help them. I want to give young people the chance to become better people."

Each student was asked to complete a short survey.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Resignation sparks by-election

VOTERS in the Mark Hall ward of Harlow will go to the polls next month for a by-election which has been called following the resignation of Labour councillor Paul Schroder.

Mr Schroder, one of three Labour councillors representing the ward, has stepped down to take up a full-time post for the maritime trade union Nautilus.

Mr Schroder, whose new duties will cover the whole of the UK, stood down with immediate effect. As a result, there will be a by-election on Thursday, May 22.

Warrant issued for man's arrest

A WARRANT has been issued for a Harlow man who failed to appear at court.

Ricky Sheridan, 34, was last known to be living in Upper Mealines, Harlow. He failed to appear at North Essex Magistrates Court on November 11 last year to answer a charge of theft.

He is also suspected of committing other thefts in Harlow in September and October 2013 when goods totalling more than £200 were stolen.

Driver charged after collision

A MOTORIST has been charged with driving offences following a collision in Harbert Road, Harlow, involving six cars on January 31.

James Dodge, 39, of Felmongers, has been charged with aggravated vehicle taking and property damage, using a motor vehicle without insurance and driving without a licence.

He has been bailed to appear at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on April 24.

FRIDAY Reachback will headline supported by Threads and Flight to Oblivion. Reachback are a punk/pop rock band with influences including All Time Low, Mayday Parade, Blink 182 and You Me At Six. They are due to release their debut album in the summer. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £6 (£5 for members).

SATURDAY Headliners Small Fakers have built a solid reputation as one of the best tribute bands out there, playing the timeless music of the legendary Small Faces. For this special show they'll do a set of Small Faces classics, and then be joined by their own Rod Stewart where they'll play some of the early 70's finest bluesy rock n roll from the Faces' short lived but unforgettable career. Supporting them are The Faces Experience. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £10 in advance.

SUNDAY Unimpressed by the influx of woolly jumper wearing hipster bands who use advanced technology to fine-tune their live vocals, these born and bred eastenders are ready to rid their town of 'posers' with a potent substance they call BLEECH. A powerful and combative live act, BLEECH will be supported by Popdad who include local legend Murray Torkildson and Worldonfire front man David Walsh and Brighton-based band She Crazy! with their melodic rock n roll sound. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £5 in advance.

Spend a night with 'intimate' Friends

TICKETS are selling fast for post-hardcore rockers Funeral For A Friend's gig at The Square in July.

The Welsh outfit, comprising lead vocalist Matthew Davies-Kreye, guitarist Kris Coombs-Roberts, guitarist Gavin Burroughs, bassist Richard Boucher and drummer Pat Lundy, formed in 2001.

Their popularity rose with the release of their debut album, Casually Dressed & Deep in Conversation in 2003. Achieving both a gold certification and three top twenty singles in their home country, Casually Dressed & Deep in Conversation is often acclaimed as one of the landmark punk records of the 2000s.

Hours (2005) and Tales Don't Tell Themselves (2007) showed an evolution in Funeral for a Friend's musical style from the style which defined their debut, as the group began to diverge from their use of screaming vocals, heavy metal influenced guitars, favouring more melodic rock influences.

These albums achieved gold and silver sales certificates respectively in the UK.

Funeral For A Friend self-released their fourth album, Memory and Humanity (2008) through their short-lived record label Join Us, the album arguably being their most eclectic to date.

Following this the band tied themselves to other independent labels for Welcome Home Armageddon (2011) and Conduit (2013), both of which showed the band returning to the metal and hardcore influenced style of their earlier work.

The band said last week: "We're happy to announce that we're playing a rad, intimate show at The Square in Harlow in July."

>>> Funeral For A Friend will perform at The Square on July 25. A limited number of tickets costing £16 are still available at www.thesquareharlow.com.

Rare opportunity to see Stacey Kent live

GRAMMY-nominated singer Stacey Kent will be performing tracks from her new album at Harlow Playhouse

The Changing Lights showcases Kent's love for Brazilian music, featuring Bossa Nova classics like How Insensitive alongside originals by the songwriting team of Jim Tomlinson and acclaimed novelist Kazuo Ishiguro.

Stacey's repertoire and audience have expanded with every album. Her platinum-selling album Breakfast On the Morning Tram was nominated for a Grammy Award, while her follow-up albums Raconte-Moi and Dreamer in Concert have been released in more than 37 different countries worldwide, making Stacey a truly international artiste.

Stacey's limited number of UK tour dates will provide a rare opportunity for fans to hear her performing tracks from the new album live in concert.

>>> Stacey Kent will be appearing at Harlow Playhouse on Thursday, May 1. Tickets cost £17-£20 and can be obtained from the box office on (01279) 431945 or by visiting www.playhouseharlow.com.

MUSIC If you love good music then Barry Steele's multi-media tribute to Roy Orbison is the show for you. Barry, pictured right, will be performing many of The Big O's, classic hits from the 1960s right through to the late 1980s Using both original and film footage from the era and backed by a band of talented musicians, Barry will bring the life and character of Orbison back to the centre stage, where it truly belongs with his trademark dark rimmed glasses, soaring vocals and Orbison style. Adding to the evening's entertainment will be special star guests paying homage to Elvis Presley and Jerry Lee Lewis, so prepare for a night of good old rock 'n' roll and contemporary musical genius all on one stage. The show on Saturday, May 10 starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £26.

THE GALLERY

Parndon Mill, Harlow
(01279) 4426042

ART A Journey Through Painting is an exploration of abstraction with beginnings in landscape by Martin Walton. The paintings will be complimented by ceramics by Fraser Burchill. The exhibition runs until May 11 and the gallery is open from Tuesday to Friday from 10am-5pm and on Sundays from 2-4pm. Admission is free.

GIBBERD GALLERY

Civic Centre, Harlow
(01279) 446404

ART The Civic Centre gallery is currently hosting the Harlow schools and college exhibition Dreams and Fantasy. The Royal Opera House Bridge has sponsored 10 young people aged 15-19 from Harlow for a six-month pilot scheme called Young Curators. The exhibition consists of 2D and 3D, sound and film art works that expresses the youngsters' dreams and fantasies, fears and ambitions. The gallery is open Monday to Friday from 9am-4.45pm and admission is free.

GATEHOUSE ARTS

West Gate, Harlow
07530 048739

ART The West Gate gallery is hosting contemporary exhibition The Art of Craft runs in the gallery until Saturday (April 19). The exhibition celebrates contemporary craft, featuring artistic practices which push the boundaries between craft and fine art. The show highlights exceptional artworks crafted in glass, ceramic, textile, paper, wire, and wood. A programme of film, talks and workshops will accompany the exhibition exploring the processes and skills of different makers.

● The exhibition will be the final one at the gallery which closes on Saturday.

JUST as Simon Cowell knows his music, and Bake Off judge Paul Hollywood knows his cakes, so award-winning gardening legend Jim Butters knows his onions.

And his melons, aubergines, carrots, radish and runner beans.

The plain-speaking horticulturalist, former Royal gardener and current RHS Britain in Bloom judge is now also judge in BBC2's new six-part series The Big Allotment Challenge, and he pulls no punches judging harvests produced by contestants on their made-for-TV allotments.

Filmed in a Victorian walled garden on the Mapledurham Estate in Oxfordshire, nine pairs of keen gardeners have spent months planning, planting and nurturing. Given their own greenhouses, they were handed particular vegetables, fruit and flowers to grow, as well as facing a number of additional weekly challenges including flower arranging and chutney-making, judged by floral arrangement expert Jonathan Moseley and preserves specialist Thane Price.

The series, presented by Fern Britton, was filmed last year from early spring until late summer, when award-winning Butters then judged the produce, from blemish-free radishes to perfect sweet peas.

So how harsh was he with this judging?

"I was once nicknamed Judge Dread but you don't have to be hard, as long as you're fair and consistent in what you do," he insists. "You don't have to hurt people but you can tell them, 'This ain't good enough'. Just be fair, be honest and give people advice as to why they didn't win or they could have done better."

Much of the advice he gives in this series is about the weather-related problems faced by competitors,

Judge Jim on the case

By Hannah Stephenson

because last spring was particularly cold.

"Last year, March and April were awful. Light levels were appalling, we had a lot of cold weather and many people were 'caught cold'. Stuff was put out which wasn't hardy enough. The one thing you'll never beat is nature. Then Mr Pest and Mr Disease comes along. It happens to everybody. They had to find a way around that."

"The most difficult thing is the timing. People who grow stuff in the garden generally don't have a deadline. Each week we set them a task, whether vegetables or flowers, and if they didn't have them ready then they didn't have an exhibit. Luckily they'd grown twice as much as they needed to guarantee they had something."

The subsequent hot weather in summer helped the growth catch up, but then it required constant watering and some produce needed slowing down.

The second strand of the competition, which is growing flowers, also put up its own problems, Butters says.

"Thrill was a menace last year with gladioli. They get the mottling vein. When the judge is looking at the exhibit, whatever it is, it's the overall impression that matters. Is it free of blemish? That includes the root and the leaves and everything else. With the hot weather, stuff started to move much more quickly and required covering and protecting from the direct sun. They had the risk that sweet peas would flower too quickly."

Away from the cameras and looking at other people's gardening, Butters is busy with his own efforts – he will be building the Homebase – Time To Reflect garden with designer Adam Frost at the RHS Chelsea Flower Show, and he is also helping to produce a display in the pavilion to mark charity Perennial's 175th anniversary.

● The Big Allotment Challenge starts on BBC2 on Tuesday (April 15) at 8pm.

Web-slinger's return is a treat for Spider-fans

THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN 2
certificate 12A, 2h22m

TWO is company but three super-villains are a crowd in Marc Webb's action-packed sequel to his 2012 blockbuster.

A Russian mobster in rhinoceros-shaped armour, a maligned Oscorp employee who can shoot electricity from his fingertips and an iconic green-skinned imp with daddy issues all vie for attention during a rough 'n' tumble 142 minutes.

The film opens with a protracted flashback to the night Richard Parker (Campbell Scott) and his wife Mary (Embeth Davidtz) leave their young son in the care of Aunt May (Sally Field) and Uncle Ben (Martin Sheen).

The reason for his parents' sudden disappearance continues to haunt Peter (Andrew Garfield), as does the ghost of Captain Stacy (Denis Leary), whose daughter Gwen (Emma Stone) is Peter's on-off-on-off girlfriend.

While Peter hones his powers, childhood friend Harry Osborn (Dane DeHaan) returns to the Big Apple to assume control of Oscorp in the wake of the death of his bullying father, Norman (Chris Cooper). Harry's ascension coincides with an industrial accident that transforms nerdy employee and Spider-Man fanatic Max Dillon (Jamie Foxx) into an electrically-charged monster.

Thus Peter must potentially give up his life to protect Gwen and Aunt May from harm.

The Amazing Spider-Man 2 fleshes out the back story of the Parkers and their involvement in secret experiments.

The film's special effects wizards oblige with dazzling sequences of Spider-Man swinging at breathless speed through the skyscrapers of New York. Such is the dizzying velocity of these set pieces, director Webb repeatedly employs slow-motion to make sense of the blurs of blue and red spandex.

But for all the sequel's technical prowess, which is considerable, it's the screen chemistry of Garfield and Stone - who met on the first picture and have been dating ever since - which provides more bang than the digitally-rendered pyrotechnics.

Peter and Gwen's turbulent romance is the cornerstone and the film soars - rather like the titular hero - whenever they are together.

Foxx's portrayal of the pathetic bad guy with unimaginable power coursing through his veins is more miss than hit. The script doesn't spend enough time with his corporate nerd before the metamorphosis into Electro. Consequently, gear changes between action, romance and comedy are not as smooth as they could be.

Thankfully, DeHaan is terrifically tormented as the heir to the Oscorp empire, who clings forlornly to the hope of a transfusion of Spider-Man's blood to cure his genetic woes.

The sins of two fathers weigh heavily on their sons, laying the foundations for a battle royale between the wily web-slinger and an iconic adversary in a third instalment, earmarked for release in summer 2016.

RICHARD Jones (Pierce Brosnan) and his ex-wife Kate (Emma Thompson) are crippled by loneliness as they lead unfulfilling separate lives.

He is poised to retire to the golf course with best friend Jerry (Timothy Spall) while she reluctantly agrees to blind dates organised by Jerry's well-meaning wife, Penelope (Celia Imrie).

Shortly after the couple's daughter Sophie (Tuppence Middleton) flies the nest for university, Machiavellian French businessman Vincent Kruger (Laurent Lafitte) plunders the pension fund of Richard's company, leaving the Joneses on the brink of financial ruin.

A trip to Paris to confront Kruger ends badly so Kate suggests they steal the hulking diamond necklace, which Kruger's unsuspecting fiancée (Louise Bourgoin) is set to wear on their wedding day.

Additional Two storey rear extension, master bedroom with en suite, garage, workshop
Guide price £325,000
Agent Geoffrey Matthew Estates, 47 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 444988

THIS extended semi-detached property in Ram Gorse, Harlow, is at the heart of the town centre and makes an ideal family home. A porch leads into the entrance hallway where there are stairs to the first floor, a cloakroom and a door leading into the lounge.

The lounge has a window to the front and an attractive electric fireplace with marble surround and hearth. French doors open through to the kitchen diner/family room, which is a stylish open plan area in the ground floor extension.

The kitchen area is separated by a breakfast bar. There are modern, high gloss eye and base units with soft close doors and drawers, corner carousels and an integral dishwasher. A separate utility room is fitted with a range of wood-style units.

The open plan dining room has patio doors leading out to the rear garden.

Upstairs on the first floor landing is a window to the side with a hatch to the loft space and doors to the three bedrooms and family bathroom.

The master bedroom overlooks the garden and has a dressing room and en-suite bathroom. The second and third bedrooms have built-in wardrobes.

The rear garden is neatly enclosed with patio areas to the side and rear and a cupboard storage area. There is also a greenhouse and a centre lawn with flower and shrub borders.

A driveway leads to a detached garage and workshop which both have power and light connected.

This property is on the books of Geoffrey Matthew Estates. Call (01279) 444988 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

ALTHOUGH more of us than ever are expecting rises in property prices over the next 12 months, it seems the vast majority of potential buyers are not willing to compromise on their chosen location.

So say the findings of Rightmove's latest Consumer Confidence Survey which asked more than 45,000 respondents for their opinion on the current housing market.

The vast majority – 90 per cent – said they would not settle for anything less than where they had set their hearts on.

Amongst those looking to buy, the survey showed that downsizers were the least willing to settle for second best (92 per cent) whilst first-time buyers were much more willing to compromise, although 85 per cent still wouldn't look elsewhere.

Rightmove director Miles Shippside pointed out that as house prices move upwards, it would make more sense for buyers to widen their search.

"There's a real mismatch between buyers' no-compromise stance on their most favoured place to live and the rising tide of prices," he said.

"Playing a waiting game and holding out for the right property in the right location could prove risky. With prices in some locations rising by the month, buyers may discover that the one they've been waiting for is over their budget."

The market certainly seems to be gathering pace around us which makes finding the right property in the right location and at an affordable price a considerable challenge. Some buyers are successful but more aren't – 32 per cent claimed to have found a home in their ideal location but 58 per cent were still looking or waiting.

Maybe now's the time to add new buzzwords such as 'flexibility' and 'open mindedness' to our usual 'location, location, location' mantra.

Would you like to earn while you learn?Would you like to become a star in our Company?*Construction offers a wide range of different career choices

If you are interested in a career in construction and have or expect to obtain 5 GCSE's (Careerstart) or 2 'A' Levels (Management Trainee) then instead of going to University why not earn while you learn and gain an impressive qualification and career along the way. We are seeking to recruit a number of candidates for our two bespoke training schemes.

Our 'CareerSTART' scheme offers career training in a variety of job roles including; Estimating, Quantity Surveying, Buying, Site Management and Architectural/Engineering. The scheme consists of on the job training with one day per week studying at college to achieve initially a BTEC Level 3 Diploma in Construction (2 yrs) followed by a Higher National Diploma in Construction (2 further yrs). Applicants for Site Management must be 18+, hold a full driving licence, be willing to travel and have transport available to them. Applicants for all other positions must be 16+ and you must have achieved for be expected to achieve 5 GCSE's (grade C or above) including Maths and English.

Our Management Trainee Scheme offers the opportunity to study to Degree level in a chosen field. The initial year of the scheme is spent gaining experience in each area of our business, gaining an understanding of the complete construction process and support functions. After the first year we offer the chance to select a chosen career path and to study on a day release basis to Degree level.

For Management Trainee, applicants must have strong communication skills, determination to succeed, the ability to lead and have either achieved or be expected to achieve two A-Levels (grade C or above). A full driving licence and transport are essential.

All positions benefit from an excellent remuneration package including, pension, health and life cover together with access to a free in-house gym.

If YOU have the dedication to succeed in the world of construction and you are not afraid to commit yourself to training and study, then apply for an application pack by: Friday 2nd May 2014

Community Agents Essex

Four Voluntary and Community Sector organisations have come together and formed a partnership to deliver a new and targeted service to help older people in Essex. The "Community Agents Essex" service will create a countywide network of agents and volunteers who will support older people and informal carers to find and develop independent living solutions from within their local community.

Community Agent (24 posts)

Salary £8.26 per hour plus travelling expenses

Flexible working hours between 10 and 20 hours per week (Minimum 10 hours)

We are looking for Community Agents to operate in all parts of Essex. Full training and support will be provided but you will need to know your own locality well.

Applicants must be able to demonstrate that they can proactively engage with and support older people in the community often on a one to one basis. Working as part of a team you must have excellent spoken and written communication skills and possess the ability to solve problems. You must have good IT skills, a full driving licence and use of your own car.

All appointments will be subject to a DBS check.

Interviews for these posts will be held on 12th and 13th May 2014

The closing date for all applications is: 2nd May 2014

For more information about how to apply for one of these posts please visit www.communityagentsessex.org.uk

Great Rivers of Germany

26 June 2014 9 days from £899

See the spectacular sights of the Rhine, the Moselle, the Neckar and the Main Rivers all on one fabulous cruise. Celebrated in art, poetry, literature and music, the legendary Rhine meanders through breathtaking landscapes, meeting its main tributaries in a beautiful area of Germany. We start our cruise in the Middle Rhine Valley, a section of the river filled with fairytale castles and terraced vineyards, followed by a cruise up the River Main to visit the elegant and exciting city of Frankfurt. We then venture into Germany's best kept secret – the beautiful Neckar Valley, before cruising along the enchanting Moselle, arguably the country's most scenic river. From quaint towns and cobbled streets to medieval cities and grand cathedrals, this extensive itinerary is the ultimate river cruise which captures the essence of the Rhine and its lovely sisters.

Price includes

- Executive return coach travel from a departure point near you
- Return ferry crossing from Dover to Calais
- En-suite cabin accommodation aboard the mps Amsterdam

- Full board during your cruise
- Entertainment every night of your cruise
- Visits to Koblenz, Rudesheim, Frankfurt, Mainz, Mannheim, Boppard and Cochem

Public Notices

Essex County Council

(Berecroft, Brookside, Northbrooks, Park Lane, The Stow & Windmill Fields, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Berecroft, Brookside, Northbrooks, Park Lane, The Stow & Windmill Fields in the District of Harlow as specified:

Road	Description	Alternative Route	Times
Berecroft, Harlow	From its junction with Commons Road for a distance of 320 metres in a generally westerly then southerly direction.	No available diversion route, access only	09:00-17:00h
Brookside, Harlow	From its junction with B133 Water Lane roundabout for a distance of 500 metres in a northerly direction including the roundabout at the junction of Red Willow and Seymours.	No available diversion route, access only	09:00-17:00h
Northbrooks, Harlow	From its junction with Haydens Road for a distance of 170 metres in a westerly direction.	Sharpecroft, Haydens Road and Vice Versa	09:00-17:00h
Park Lane, Harlow	From its junction with School Lane for a distance of 650 metres in a westerly direction.	Mandela Avenue, School Lane and vice versa	09:30h-15:30h
The Stow, Harlow	From its junction with Orchard Croft for a distance of 270 metres in a westerly direction.	Minchen Road, Howard Way, First Avenue and vice versa	20:00h-05:00h
Windmill Fields, Harlow	From its junction with Sheering Road for a distance of 300 metres in a south westerly direction, incorporating Roden Close.	Sheering Road, Roden Close, Windmill fields and vice versa	20:00h-05:00h

The closures are scheduled to commence within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 1 May 2014 between the hours of 20:00h and 05:00h or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while highway maintenance works are undertaken. Exact dates of the road closures will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 1 May 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Various Roads, Elizabeth Way & Southern Way, Harlow) (Temporary 10MPH Speed Limit) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the Order:

To temporarily introduce a 10mph speed limit on the following lengths of road in the District of Harlow as specified and to temporarily suspend the existing speed restrictions detailed in Column 3.

Road	Description	Order to be suspended
A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow	From a point 80 metres north-east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout north-eastwards to its junction with Pardon Mill Lane, a distance of approximately 1500 metres.	The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 50mph on Elizabeth Way from its junction with Pardon Mill Lane south-west to a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Well Lane.
A1169 Southern Way, Harlow	From its junctions with Katherine's Way eastwards to its easternmost junction with Paringdon Road, a distance of approximately 2000 metres.	The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 40mph on Elizabeth Way from a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Well Lane south-westwards to a point 80 metres north-east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout.

The Orders specified in Column 3 above are temporarily suspended insofar as they relate to the lengths of road specified in Columns 1 and 2 above. All other restrictions will remain in force.

The works will be carried out in phases; the maximum length of 10mph limit at any given time will be 500 metres. The remaining length will be subject to the existing speed limit.

The restrictions are required for the safety of the work force and public while a convoy working system is in operation to allow for carriageway maintenance works. The works are scheduled to take place within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 1 May 2014. The 10mph restrictions will be in operation at all times while operatives are working in those length of roads between the hours 09:30 - 15:30 or when appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting. On completion of the works the road will revert to the existing speed limit.

The Order will come into effect on 1 May 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Burr, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford.

The closures are scheduled to commence within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 1 May 2014 between the hours of 20:00h and 05:00h or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while highway maintenance works are undertaken. Exact dates of the road closures will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 1 May 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Various Roads, Elizabeth Way & Southern Way, Harlow) (Temporary 10MPH Speed Limit) Order 2014

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the Order:

To temporarily introduce a 10mph speed limit on the following lengths of road in the District of Harlow as specified and to temporarily suspend the existing speed restrictions detailed in Column 3.

Road	Description	Order to be suspended
A1169 Elizabeth Way, Harlow	From a point 80 metres north-east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout north-eastwards to its junction with Pardon Mill Lane, a distance of approximately 1500 metres.	The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 50mph on Elizabeth Way from its junction with Pardon Mill Lane south-west to a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Well Lane. The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 40mph on Elizabeth Way from a point 79 metres south-west of its junction with Well Lane south-westwards to a point 80 metres north-east of its junction with Roydon Road Roundabout.
A1169 Southern Way, Harlow	From its junctions with Katherine's Way eastwards to its easternmost junction with Paringdon Road, a distance of approximately 2000 metres.	The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004 – suspend 40mph on Southern Way between its junctions with Katherine's Way and the easternmost junction of Paringdon Road.

The Orders specified in Column 3 above are temporarily suspended insofar as they relate to the lengths of road specified in Columns 1 and 2 above. All other restrictions will remain in force.

The works will be carried out in phases; the maximum length of 10mph limit at any given time will be 500 metres. The remaining length will be subject to the existing speed limit.

The restrictions are required for the safety of the work force and public while a convoy working system is in operation to allow for carriageway maintenance works. The works are scheduled to take place within an 18 month timeframe starting from the 1 May 2014. The 10mph restrictions will be in operation at all times while operatives are working in those length of roads between the hours 09:30 - 15:30 or when appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting. On completion of the works the road will revert to the existing speed limit.

The Order will come into effect on 1 May 2014 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Burr, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Taurus 21 April - 21 May

Influences this week can be volatile, so it helps to carefully consider your motives in case you're sidetracked by an event or idea. However, as Mercury enters your sign, your thoughts can steady, helping you to navigate more skillfully through the days ahead. Though the option for change may present itself, look to take it one step at a time. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Scorpio 24 October - 22 November

Wanting satisfaction and not finding it, can drive you to think about your life in detail. As Uranus and Mars square Pluto, you may be looking for an activity that helps you feel vitally alive. Perhaps succeeding at a challenge that's a bit of a stretch, could leave you exhilarated and ready to tackle a goal that's even more daring and worthwhile. Call for more news and advice...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June

With the current Grand Cross clearly defined, events can encourage your creative and innovative side to unfold. A challenging Mars Uranus influence, might entice you to hasten the pace and get a move on. Good Knight for Hawks as they seal third spot

North Herts Knights55
Harlow Hawks70
(Herts Basketball League, div two)

A TOP-three finish in the Herts Basketball League division two was assured by Harlow Hawks after an impressive 70-55 victory against North Herts Knights.

Delighted Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz said: "The win means that the worst that we can finish is third in the league. This was a vital win because it means that we will have home court advantage when the division two play-offs start towards the end of the month or in the first week of May."

"We are not sure who we will face in the play-off quarter-finals because the final league fixture will be played on Sunday April 27, and could have a potential impact on other teams' final positions."

Sunday's victory in Hawks' final league game completed a three-match winning streak and means Harlow head into play-offs with growing confidence.

The Hawks started the first quarter strongly by opening up a seven-point lead.

Six points from Tom White and a three pointer from Russell Stonehouse capped off the run.

However, it was sloppy defensive play that prevented the visitors from taking full control of the game in the opening quarter, as the Knights converted two and one plays in the final minute of the quarter to bring the score level at 16-16.

The Hawks opened up the second period with an impressive 10-2 run, as Rohan Lenihan came off the bench to hit two consecutive three pointers, Rimas Norkeliunas and Alex Hinds also adding a basket each.

The Knights remained composed as they went on a 9-2 run of their own before scores from Stonehouse closed out the half 34-27 in favour of the Hawks.

In the second half, two early three pointers from the Knights saw the Hawks' lead quickly diminished.

However, it was veteran forward Russ Allan who scored six points to spur an 18-4 run, with superb defence from the Hawks leading to fast breakaway scores for Lee Jones and Stonehouse.

The Hawks ended the third quarter up 52-38.

Harlow continued to score close to the basket in the fourth quarter as Norkeliunas came up with countless second chance opportunities for his side before picking up an ankle injury.

At the other end, the Knights started to pull back into the game with a second barrage of three pointers bringing the game back within 10 points.

Scores from Lenihan, Jones, Stonehouse and Hinds were enough to see the Hawks pull away in the closing minutes to take an excellent 70-55 victory.

HARLOW HAWKS: Hinds (11 points), Stonehouse (11), Lenihan (10), White (10), Norkeliunas (9), Allan (8), Jones (5), Morris (2), Friedner (2), Niaz, Burgess.

County Cup heartache for losing finalists Parsloe

PARSLOE Athletic were undone by a late goal as they slipped to a 2-1 defeat against Belfry in the Essex Junior Cup final.

The Harlow and District League premier division side had come from behind to equalise though Darren Smith in Sunday's clash at Brightlingsea Regent Football Club.

However, Belfry substitute Sonny Adams popped up to score the winner.

Belfry had the better of the play from the start but the first half was tight and goal chances were rare.

Mitchell Das' free-kick for Parsloe proved the only real clear opening for either team.

However, Belfry goalkeeper Matthew Lawless was more than equal to the task.

It was within 90 seconds of the second half that the tie sprang to life.

Belfry's Terrell-Stuart nodded home at the far post beyond Parsloe keeper Jayden Purdue to give the London City Airport League side a 1-0 lead.

Parsloe looked to respond and Das saw his low shot roll agonisingly wide of the far post after he had been played clean through.

Smith then made it 1-1 on 76 minutes.

He deftly clipped a neat finish over Belfry's advancing keeper Matthew Lawless and into the net.

Within seconds, Belfry's Jack Sawyer saw his stinging close-range shot brilliantly blocked.

David Jones then pulled an angled effort just wide of a Parsloe post from a David Abela cutback.

Shortly after, Adams

latched on to a ball over the top and beat Purdue to poke home the winner for Belfry, ending Parsloe's hopes of winning a county cup.

Campaign concludes with Canvey cracker for Rams

THE Rams ended their RFU London division three north east with a flourish – and later learned they had grabbed fifth spot in the table after Old Brentwoods' surprise victory over Upminster.

Lee Harron's men won 41-21 at already-relegated Canvey Island on Saturday, but Harlow will know that if they could have turned just four or five close games into victories, they could well have finished in second spot and been looking forward to a play-off to return to division two north east.

The Rams conceded three converted tries in the space of seven second-half minutes which made their match against the islanders much

Canvey Island21
Harlow41
(RFU London, div three north east) closer than it should have been.

The first try did not arrive until the 25-minute mark, when Neil McMullen charged through, brushing off two defenders to score.

Kurtis Knightley converted for a 7-0 lead for the visitors.

Immediately from the restart Harlow were back on the attack.

Harron, making a welcome return at scrum-half, made a break and committed a defender while off-loading to Will Grimley. Grimley's speed was too much for the defence and he made good ground before taking out the final defender and passing to Oliver Woodward who touched down for the try.

Harlow used the power of their scrum and it allowed Harron to make a number of solo breaks.

And it was Harron who used his strength to force his way over for the third try (17-0).

A penalty try just made it 17-7.

Another storming run by McMullen brought his second try and Knightley converted for 24-7.

Careless passing allowed Canvey to intercept and run in a converted try under the posts. Worse was to follow as the hosts broke again and added a third converted try to make it 24-21 at half-time.

When Chris Webb took out a Canvey defender, this allowed Ryan McGlone to run through to extend Harlow's lead after the restart.

Grimley sprinted through for the Rams' fifth try.

In the final minute of the game it was Woodward who broke clear to touch down the final try and conclude the scoring.

Knightley kicked three conversions in total.

HARLOW: Ephgrave, Stonehouse, Cunningham, Twiner, Palmer, Roberts, M. Bowering, Eynon (Claridge 45), Harron, McGlone, Woodward, Knightley, McMullen, Grimley, Webb. Subs: Ellis, Clark.

Murtagh smashes HRC record at London Marathon

HARLOW Running Club fielded 14 runners in this year's Virgin London Marathon.

They joined more than 35,000 others runners on what was a great day for spectating but, because of the constant sunshine, made it very warm for running a distance of 26.2 miles.

Several HRC runners ran for charity, raising more than £3,000 for St Clare Hospice, Seafarers, Diabetes UK and Oasis. Performance of the day belonged to Steve Murtagh. He finished in 177th place and was third veteran 50 in a fantastic time of 2 hours, 39 minutes and 22 seconds to improve the HRC Vet 50 record, which has stood since 2000, by an incredible 20 minutes.

First HRC woman was Julia Gardiner in 4,727th place in an excellent 3:28.22 in her debut at the distance.

Jamie Jephcott (4,048th) finished in a superb 3:24.04, Colin Moody (6,442nd) clocked 3:38.18 and Andy Terrell (7,661st) came home in 3:44.15.

Lyndsey Hodge (7,449th) finished in 3:43.15, Odette Galea (11,948th) in 4:00.39 and Emma Wadding (14,302nd) clocked 4:11.10, all improving their personal best times for the distance by an amazing 15 minutes, while Janice Page (12,176th in 4:01.37) fell just seven seconds short of her personal best (PB).

Competing in their debuts at the distance were Paul Schroder (17,352nd in 4:23.29), Spencer Brooks (17,972nd in 4:25.57), Terry Pike (29,076th in 5:20.58) and Vicky Calver (31,517th in 5:40.50). Completing the list of Harlow runners was Will Shoults (32,185th in 5:48.05).

Meanwhile at the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Paul Jeffrey-Read, just back from injury, finished in sixth place out of 83 finishers in a PB equalling 18.57. Jason Haigh was 18th in a time of 21.04.

At the Chelmsford Park run 5K, Robin Lozeau finished in 108th place out of 351 finishers in 23.19.

At the Cambridge Park run 5K, Andy Kinney was 173rd out of 389 finishers in 25.05 in his debut at the distance.

Richard Solomons finished in 38th position out of 112 finishers at the Lanhydrock Parkrun 5K at Bodmin in Cornwall.

He was first in the veteran 65 age group in 25.49.

Hawks smash title favourites

ALEX Read broke a 25-year record when he scored for Harlow Town as they won 5-2 at 10-man Witham Town in Ryman League division one north last Thursday.

Read's three goals took his haul to 47 this season, surpassing the 44 scored by former Harlow striker Jeff Wood in 1989.

Shamedu Pedulu put Witham ahead in the 27th minute before Read equalised from the penalty spot five minutes later after Shane Stamp was fouled.

Pedulu then put Witham ahead again on 47 minutes before Read scored twice to complete his treble and put Harlow 3-2 up.

Read's second goal was a tap-in from a yard after a Leon Antoine header hit the bar.

Read's third goal came on the hour mark from the penalty spot after a handball.

In between these goals, Witham's John Watson was sent off on 54 minutes for a two-footed challenge on Hawks left-back Layne Eadie.

Further goals for Harlow came from Johnathan Glowacki on 77 minutes and Junior Dadson on 86 minutes.

Assistant boss Paul West-Hook said: "We showed quite a lot of character to come back from behind twice as we did and everybody put in a performance."

Hammers keeper hopeful Tom's really a Spurs fan!

TWELVE-year-old Tom Middlehurst is hoping to follow in the footsteps of famous Hammers goalkeeper Phil Parkes and Ludek Miklosko after signing up for the East London club – but admits he really is a Spurs fan!

Stewards Academy student Tom has previously played for Arsenal, but is now hoping to make the breakthrough at West Ham having signed a new two-year deal back in January.

The talented goalie represented West Ham in a European tournament in Latvia last year.

Tom's parents signed a pre-contract with the Irons when he was just nine as they were so impressed with his ability.

He now trains three times a week and travels to the likes of Chelsea, Southampton and Norwich to play other academy teams.

Tom said: "It means so much to be a West Ham player and to be lucky enough to be chosen to play at an academy. Although I am a Tottenham fan I really enjoy being at West Ham as the coaching for goalkeepers is excellent and they really push me to be the best I can be, but at the same time I have lots of fun with the coaches and players."

Tom explained how he made the grade at West Ham. He said: "I was still at Arsenal when in 2009 I was at the elite 48 tournament in Hainault playing for Frontiers Youth and we were losing 4-0 but I had a great game and kept the score down by making some great saves."

"At the tournament was the West Ham head of recruitment for the academy, he saw my game and my dad doing my warm-up and asked my dad if I could go for a trial game on a Friday night at West Ham's training ground at Chadwell Heath."

"I was really nervous but the other boys were so nice and friendly. We all went in to the changing rooms and they gave me a West Ham kit to wear,

HAMMER TIME: Young goalkeeper Tom Middlehurst is hoping to make the grade at West Ham United that made me feel like part of the team straight away. We came on to the pitch and I walked out past the parents I had a massive grin on my face where I was so happy to be there, and felt part of West Ham.

"I played for 60 minutes and after 30 minutes the head goalkeeper coach said to my dad that he was making a suggestion that I was pre-offered a contract to sign when I was nine years old."

"I had to go to training sessions three times a week from the age of seven and even trained on AstroTurf when it snowed!"

Last year Tom was chosen to take part in the Premier League's 'best with best' training weekend with three other academy players and earned praise from top FA coaches. "Something which I am very proud of is to be voted 'best goalkeeper' at the Premier League truce national finals in November 2013 where I received a trophy with my name on it," he said.

Tom first started playing in goal when he was five at Harlow's Risden Wood FC.

He later had trials with Tottenham and Arsenal before remaining with the Gunners for two years.

"When I first went in goal my dad took some shots at me and when I started to make some good saves I realised that I enjoyed being in goal," he said.

His school allows him time off to pursue his dream of becoming a professional footballer.

"My school Stewards let me start my day release programme where I go to West Ham all day. It's really tough as I now have all my school work to do that I miss on a Thursday but the school are helping me with my dream to be a professional footballer," he said.

Whisper it quietly but Tom's idols are still in N17 rather than E13.

"I look up to goalkeepers like Hugo Lloris and I wish I can keep playing football like Brad Friedel when I am in my forties," he added.

Read distraught as play-off hopes are damaged

Harlow Tn 2
Cheshunt 2
(Ryman League, division one north)

ALEX Read was distraught after the Hawks' play-off hopes were hit by a last-minute goal for Cheshunt which gave Omer Riza's side a share of the spoils at The Harlow Arena on Saturday, writes DAVID RIMMER.

"We have scored in the 90th minute, and then they have gone on and scored after we had possession," fumed Read.

"We gave away a cheap free-kick for their goal. We created our problems. Right now I am upset about the game."

It looked like finishing 1-1 before Harlow thought they had got the winner when George Smith scored in the fourth minute of injury-time.

However, Cheshunt refused to give up and scored when substitute John Megicks volleyed home superbly after the home defence failed to clear a free-kick.

The referee blew the final whistle 15 seconds later.

A minute's silence in memory of the 96 fans who lost their lives at Hillsborough 25 years ago was impeccably observed before the game kicked off at 3.07pm.

Cheshunt broke the deadlock in the 39th minute.

Harlow failed to clear a cross from the right and Cheshunt player-boss Omer Riza tucked the bouncing ball into the net with a deft left-footed shot.

Harlow equalised on 75 minutes. Read was fouled in the box by Warren Goodhind and the former then converted the spot-kick.

Read had the ball in the Cheshunt net on 80 minutes but his effort was ruled out for offside.

The exciting climax then saw Harlow go 2-1 ahead when Read's acute-angled shot was tipped onto a post and fell to George Smith to tap into an empty net.

However, Cheshunt were not to be beaten and Megicks fired in a great second goal for them.

Hawks assistant boss Paul West-Hook said: "I think they played quite well. Defensively they played quite well and they had a bit of experience."

"They really wanted it and they wanted to make things difficult for us. All round today I thought we were a bit tired. Thursday's performance [at Witham Town] took a lot out of us. We put a lot in that game and it was very physical."

He added: "It [against Cheshunt] was an evenly matched game. They were up for it. We did better in the first half hour and then they came back into it."

"I thought George Smith did well when he came on. He linked well with other players. We had numerous times to clear before they scored their second goal and we can only blame ourselves. It was a great strike."

"They had other chances, they hit the cross bar and an offside goal. It was a fair result."

HARLOW TOWN: Knowles, Barnard (Martin 66), Eadie, Urquhart, Blewitt, Glowacki, Dadson (Antoine 66), Muguo, Read, James Smith, Stamp (G Smith 60). Subs not used: McKenzie, Thompson.

Hawks ace smashes through 50-goal mark

ALEX Read smashed through the 50-goal barrier as he struck twice as Harlow Town dispatched Redbridge 4-2 to continue their march towards the Ryman League division one north play-offs.

The striker took his tally to a record-smashing to the half century with his brace.

Leon Antoine and Junior Dadson also struck.

The hosts were level at 2-2 early on in the second half but Harlow struck twice to take a crucial three points on Tuesday.

Having beaten Jeff Wood's Harlow Town FC

goalscoring record with a hat-trick against Witham in the 5-2 victory last Thursday, Read has now scored six goals in the last three games.

He also netted a goal in the 2-2

draw with

Cheshunt on Saturday.

Against Redbridge, Harlow had built up a two-goal cushion but close to half-time the hosts scored twice to make it 2-2 at the break.

Read had opened the scoring after only eight minutes when he stabbed in from close range after Dadson crossed from the right.

And the in-form striker added a second when he met Antoine's through ball and fired low into a corner of the Redbridge net on 20 minutes.

Redbridge halved the deficit when a ball fell loose on the edge of the penalty area and Stephen Good volleyed just inside a post on 36 minutes.

A corner was not cleared properly and a close-range shot was blasted home by Emiel Aiken on 39 minutes.

However, Dadson made it 3-2 on 53 minutes when he rifled a low shot into the net.

And Antoine made the points safe just three minutes later when he latched on to a poor clearance from the Redbridge defence and slotted home from 10 yards out.

Hawks are third in the table.

Striker in odd boots as he breaks record

NEW Harlow Town FC record goalscorer Alex Read has been wearing odd boots for the last few weeks, but that has not stopped his incredible run of goals.

Having scored six goals in Harlow's last three games, Read has now reached an amazing 50 goals.

Speaking to the Star, Read said he was not too concerned about breaking Jeff Wood's 25-year record, and more determined to make sure the Hawks secure a play-off spot in Ryman division one north.

Read (25) said: "It is a lovely achievement but there is more involved. Three points [against Cheshunt] would have been nicer [than the record]."

The striker has been wearing one blue boot and one orange boot for the last few weeks after the studs broke on one pair and presumably he did not want to jinx himself as he got so close to a record which strangely enough was recorded in the very year he was born.

His mum Angela, who has travelled up from the family's East London home to watch many of his games, said: "He won't change them now. One of the studs broke so he's been playing in different colours for the last few weeks. One is blue and the other one is orange."

Mrs Read said her son has enjoyed playing at Harlow more than any of his previous clubs. "He loves it there. It's such a lovely club. He just wants them to go up."

Hawks assistant boss West-Hook praised the in-form forward. He said: "It is amazing to have scored that amount of goals this season. It's a fantastic "That is why he scores so many goals. He is a good finisher. Regardless of that he wants us to do well."

West-Hook has now challenged Read to go on and get 60 goals.

"I said to him to go for 60. He said that he was more interested in going up, but I said if that if he scored 60 we would go up," he said. "We have four games left and maybe two play-offs, and if he does that, how long will that record last?"

"He has already got three hat-tricks. He has the ability. He can do it."

achievement.

"He has got that knack. He just knows where that goal is. It is his positioning. He has that natural ability and you cannot coach that.

Assistant boss targets top three and home play-off

ASSISTANT manager Paul West-Hook wants Harlow Town to finish at least third and guarantee a home play-off semi-final in Ryman League division one north.

Harlow face a make-or-break Easter weekend, with a trip to play-off chasing Needham Market on Saturday followed by a tricky home match against Maldon & Tiptree on Monday.

The Hawks could do with title-chasing Witham winning at Heybridge Swifts on Saturday.

West-Hook said: "Every game we have to get as many points as we can. We have one home

He added: "I like to think we can get in the play-offs [finish in the top five] but we would like more. We want more. We want to get home advantage."

"If we can get into second place or third place, that is going to be our ideal scenario."

Home advantage played a part when Harlow beat Sudbury on penalties in the play-offs at the end of the 2006/07 season in Ryman League division one north.

But playing away at Wingate & Finchley in the semi-final of the play-offs at the end of the 2010/11 season saw Harlow lose.

West-Hook said: "We have beaten Witham twice and that might help us if we play them [in the play-offs], but who knows what is going to happen?"

"Perhaps we will face Heybridge and they have done us three times, twice in the league and once in the cup."

He added: "It's exciting. You are nervous at the moment as you do not know where you are going to finish. There are still twists and turns left."
